Any and all antiquities or coins not sold before the closing date will be sent to the highest bidder on June 11, 1991.

EXAMPLE—You bid estimate on an item valued at $100.00 and if your bid is the 1st to reach us, you will receive the item immediately. # FIXED PRICE ITEM AES RUDE

875. Comments on Aes Rudes of Central Italy - by Italo G. Vecchi: Italian Aes Rude, Signatum and the Aes Grave of Sicily, 1979, Page 15:

"A system of barter with copper objects had long existed in Central Italy where copper was plentiful and valued while silver was rare and gold non-existent. The Italic population had produced Aes Rude from very early times and they are often found in hoards of votive deposits to divinities of fountains and rivers from the first half of the 1st millennium B.C. down to the end of the 4th century B.C. often along with Aes Signatum as in the Vulci hoard of 1828 and the Castelfranco hoard in Emilia of 1897. Emilia has produced considerable finds of Aes Rude which possibly indicates some local production but they have also been found in Campania, Southern Italy and Sicily.

Aes Rude weights are most irregular ranging from 8 gms to over 300 gms." Our Aes Rudes weigh generally about 100 gms each. Our choice, each 100

876. 323-281 BC, Tetradrachms. Generally EF. A - J, each . . . . . 900

FIRST ISSUE OF OCTAVIAN
ROMAN REPUBLICAN AUREI FROM 43 B.C.

877. L. CESTIUS, C. NORBANUS; Bust of Africa draped wearing elephant skin/Curule chair, with front legs decorated with doves, and on which rests a Corinthian helmet. The Corinthian helmet is the helmet of Minerva and indicates the fighting of a just war. Crawford-491/1a; SYD-1153 Rarity-6; Banti-1 Rarity-6. EF/Near Mint State . . . . . 13500
878. L. CESTIUS, C. NORBANUS; Bust of Sibyl draped right/Cybele seated upon throne being drawn by a biga of lions holding patera in right hand and resting left arm on a drum. Crawford-491/2; SYD-1155 Rarity-6; Banti-11 Rarity-7. Near Mint State . . . . . 15000

It is felt that these two types represent three legions, two from Africa and one from Italy. The primary beneficiary (for whose army) of the coins has troubled scholars for many years and the problem has never been solved, in fact the more I read, the more confused I became. That is until I spoke to our advisor for historical facts, Prof. D. MacDonald. He found in "The Roman Revolution" by Sir Ronald Syme, that one of the moneyers, C. Norbanus Flaccus, an Etruscan, was in 42 BC, only months after the minting of these coins, a general fighting with Octavian who later served as Consul in 38 BC. As Octavian butchered Cicero and all who opposed him when he re-entered Rome after defeating Marc Antony (before allying with him). C. Norbanus Flaccus could never have issued these coins for the benefit of Cicero to protect Rome from Octavian as Alföldi suggests.

The types with the Minervan helmet on the curule chair which represent "a just war," and the others with Sibyl which refers to the book of Sibylline Prophecies which the Romans consulted in time of crisis, refer to the hoped for defeat of Cicero, Brutus, Cassius and the other enemies of the dead Julius and his adopted son, Octavian, (to be Augustus).

Crawford 491/1a and Crawford 491/2 are equal to the best that have ever come up for sale. These coins were struck by a traveling military mint. For that reason the surfaces do not resemble those of Imperial Aurei, even at the time of minting. The surface of the dies of traveling mints were never highly polished or well finished as were those of stationary imperial mints. Except for the issues of Julius Caesar, Republican Aurei are generally quite scarce and always struck as the Chinese proverb goes "during interesting times" or in other words, "during Civil Wars."

Since this pair of coins was struck by the same moneyers and for the same purpose and since Crawford records 43 specimens of 491/1a and 35 specimens of 491/2 we would like to see them stay together if possible. For that reason we are doing something we have never done before which is to offer a Buy Bid on these two lots as one, at a discounted rate. If one of the coins is purchased on a buy bid before the pair is sold, the discount rate does not apply.
